- I. Oberweis Asset Management, Inc. (OAM) claims compliance with the Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS®) and has prepared and presented this report in compliance with the GIPS standards. OAM has been independently verified for the periods January 1, 1993 through December 31, 2025. A firm that claims compliance with the GIPS standards must establish policies and procedures for complying with all the applicable requirements of the GIPS standards. Verification provides assurance on whether the firm's policies and procedures related to composite and pooled fund maintenance, as well as the calculation, presentation, and distribution of performance, have been designed in compliance with the GIPS standards and have been implemented on a firm-wide basis. The Small-Cap Composite has had a performance examination for the periods September 15, 1996 through December 31, 2025. The verification and performance examination reports are available upon request.
- II. OAM is an independent investment management firm registered under the Investment Advisor Act of 1940, founded in 1989, that invests in high growth companies around the world. The firm specializes in Small and Mid-Capitalization growth strategies globally for institutional investors and its own proprietary mutual fund family. Registration does not imply a certain level of skill or training. Firm assets presented represent all accounts where OAM has been engaged as investment adviser. A complete list and description of firm composites, the firm's list of broad distribution pooled funds, and the firm's list and descriptions of limited distribution pooled funds is available upon request.
- III. The following standards describe performance presented herein:
- A. The Small-Cap Opportunities Composite creation and inception date are September 15, 1996. The reporting currency is U.S. Dollar. Policies for valuing investments, calculating performance, and preparing GIPS Reports are available upon request.
 - B. Gross performance is computed before deducting advisory fees. Generally, the advisory fees for separate accounts are 0.70% on the first $50 million, 0.65% on the next $50 million, 0.60% on all additional assets. Except for an account that was in the composite for the period April 2015 through July 2016 and had a performance based fee arrangement. Net-of-fees composite returns were calculated using the highest model investment advisory fees applicable to portfolios within the composite.
 - C. The Small-Cap Opportunities Composite includes all fully discretionary accounts in excess of $2.5 million invested in the Small-Cap Opportunities strategy, which primarily invests in the securities of domestic companies with a market capitalization of less than $5 billion at the time of investment. Effective January 1, 2013 the equity segment was increased to 90% from 70%.
 - D. Key material risks include the risk that small-cap stock prices will decline and that the composite will underperform its benchmark. Small-cap equity prices can be more volatile than larger-cap stocks and carry more risk.
- IV. The standard deviation of portfolio returns have not been presented as the composite consisted of five or less accounts since inception. For accounts managed all months in the presentation year, the asset-weighted standard deviation of account returns within the composite is presented as a measure of internal dispersion. The three-year annualized ex-post standard deviation measures the variability of the composite and the benchmark returns over the preceding 36-month period. Net-of fees returns are used to calculate the asset-weighted standard deviation and the Gross-of fees returns are used to calculate the three-year annualized ex-post standard deviation.
- V. Consultants and investors supplied with these performance results are advised to use this data in accordance with guidelines issued by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The performance presented is inclusive of commissions and transaction costs and assumes reinvestment of any dividends, capital gains, or other earnings. The client's return will be reduced by the advisory fees and other expenses it may incur in the management of its account. The investment advisory fees are described in Part II of the Form ADV. The advisory fee, compounded over a period of years, will have an adverse effect on the value of the client's portfolio.
- VI. The benchmark for this composite is the Russell 2000 Growth Index. The Russell 2000 Growth Index measures the performance of those Russell 2000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted earnings growth rates. The Russell 2000 Index measures the performance of 2000 companies with small-market capitalizations. This index is unmanaged and is not available for investment. Benchmark returns are not covered by the report of independent verifiers.
